Thoughtfully developed products
for the hands, body and home

DESIGNED FOR DISPLAY
FORMULATED FOR EXPERIENCE

Made in Melbourne. Inspired by Scandinavia.

Inspired by artisan practices of the past and driven by the vision for a sustainable future, WØRKS is committed to mindful processes, timeless design, and thoughtfully developed products for the hands, body and home.

Manifesto

As a mission-driven brand, we believe:

- That true luxury lies in patience, restraint, and artistry.
- In the power of human hands. Our products are filled, labelled and quality controlled by hand.
- That the world doesn't need more; it needs better.
- That everyday objects can be transformed into statement pieces for the home.
- In longevity built on sustainable practices and conscious products.
- That the best ideas are found in quiet moments.

Small batch Big difference

Our formulations are made by artisan technicians who draw on slow processes and time-honoured methods. These labour-intensive techniques — which require exceptional skill and attention to detail — result in quality that can't be matched by the mass production process.

Once finalised, the formulations are hand filled into glass vessels. Our luxury linen labels are hand cut and hand applied to ensure the highest level of care and quality.

Statement glassware

In a category of consumables, WØRKS glass vessels are designed as objects of permanence.

These statement pieces for the home meet the needs of the design-conscious; those who appreciate meticulous attention to detail and who seek premium products to style their spaces — without having to resort to plastic.

With discrete embossing and a clean, timeless silhouette, our glass vessels are designed with a minimalist aesthetic for maximalist impact. With functionality in mind, the base of each vessel is fitted with a silicon mat to protect your stone and marble surfaces.

WØRKS glassware transports you to a world of quiet luxury. This is design that defines your space.

From seed to skin

Our seed-to-skin approach transcends the trend of 'natural' products.

We identify the best biocompatible ingredients that support your skin's own processes and strengthen barrier function without disrupting your microbiome.

We source these ingredients from certified organic farms, where they are grown without pesticides or chemicals. Once they reach our lab in Melbourne, we process them in small batches using a minimal intervention method to preserve their natural benefits and maximise their potency.

The result is a thoughtfully developed collection of formulations rooted in the natural world that harness botanicals to enhance, nourish, and protect your skin.

Signature scents from nature's best

Each of our products carries a signature scent blended by hand at a boutique perfumery. This process, which takes many weeks, prioritises holistic sensory experience and harnesses the power of fragrance to enhance mental and emotional wellbeing.

Blended from pure essential oils, steam distilled botanicals and cold pressed plant extracts, every WØRKS scent is certified by the International Fragrance Association (IFRA), which is the highest global health and safety standard.

So you can breathe easy.

Award-winning sustainability

Our commitment to end-to-end sustainability includes:

- Excluding plastic from our packaging and housing our formulations in glass and aluminium
- Sourcing certified organic raw materials that are grown and harvested sustainably
- Contributing to environmental restoration, tree planting and carbon offset projects
- Manufacturing every product locally and keeping supply chains short
- Committing to biodegradable formulations to protect waterways and natural ecosystems
- Shipping all products in 100% recyclable cardboard with no bubble wrap, plastic or packing beads
- Formulating in small batches to avoid unnecessary oversupply of products or waste

In conversation

“In a category that celebrates ‘one sold every second’, we’re proudly anti mass market. The beauty industry is one of the largest contributors to landfill, ocean pollution and climate change. Personal care products make up a significant portion of the problem due to plastic packaging and product disposability. We founded WØRKS to disrupt this category and encourage consumers to buy better, not to buy more.”

Suze Raymond, WØRKS Co-Founder

Christoffer Kjaergaard, WØRKS Co-Founder

“With longevity in mind, timeless aesthetic is important. Our statement glassware has been designed with the level of intention usually reserved for home accessories. The vessels are meticulously crafted with consideration for the product lifecycle, with particular attention paid to ever changing light play through the glass as the formulation inside is slowly emptied, then refilled. Our bottles are more than vessels to house formulations: they are conversation pieces.”
